ERIC MCDADE

Leadership Development Advisor

BIOGRAPHY //

Eric McDade was born and raised in Denison, Texas, and graduated from Concordia University. He began his education career in Round Rock ISD, and continued on to serve high schools in College Station ISD, Cleburne ISD, Crowley ISD, Mansfield ISD, Duncanville ISD, and Carroll ISD. This has given him the unique experience of working with students from varied backgrounds.

Eric began implementing Flippen Group processes in his English classroom and with the varsity basketball team at Duncanville High School. He currently teaches Teen Leadership™ at Southlake Carroll High School, implementing and modeling the processes as head basketball coach. Eric has taken students to Capturing Kids' Hearts® trainings to speak to participants on how the processes have impacted their lives, and he became a leadership development advisor in 2011.

Eric is married to Janet, who is a central office administrator in Garland ISD. They currently reside in Southlake, Texas with their two boys, Bryson, and Braylen. The McDades love spending time with family and enjoying their friends. ■
